

Supporting Children of Incarcerated Parents: a training for child care providers with Tricia Long, LCMHC, Director for Resilience Beyond Incarceration

~ in collaboration with Vermont Birth to 5 ~

Saturday, November 5th, 9am - 4pm (6 hrs)

Conference Room #1 at Central Vermont Medical Center

Over the course of a year, 6,000 children in Vermont experience parental incarceration; they go to bed at night missing their mom or dad in prison. Sometimes these children are known to their teachers, caregivers and counselors; more often they are not.

This training will provide staff in child care and educational settings with information and activities designed to increase their capacity to respond to the needs of these children, their caregivers, and their incarcerated parents. Participants will be empowered to build a supportive climate in their classrooms to help children process grief, release shame, establish caring relationships, and build healthy self-esteem.
